

ILG (International Laser Group) Nominated for Best New Product Introduction

August 2007

Best New Product; Color LaserJet Cartridges

WOODLAND HILLS, Calif. – ILG (International Laser Group), the industry-leading compatible imaging products manufacturer with distribution centers strategically located in every major geographic region of the United States, is pleased to announce their nomination in the Recharger Magazine 2007 Reader's Choice Awards for Best New Product introduced into the remanufacturing industry.

"ILG has and will continue to be first to market with a true OEM alternative color product, and our HP 4700 cartridges are a prime example of this strategy's success," states Gary Michaels, Founder and COO. "We are committed to the widest and highest quality color product offering with the strongest fulfillment network in the nation. With the recent million dollar investment in our research and development labs, ILG will continue to lead the industry with an innovative color portfolio."

Voting is open through August 5th, 2007. Readers can cast their votes by faxing (702) 438-4025, or they can vote on-line at www.rechargermag.com. There is also a link to Recharger Magazine's on-line voting ballot at www.ilglaser.com. Winners will be announced during a gala event at the Recharger Magazine Reader's Choice Awards Ceremony on Tuesday, August 21st in the Palm Foyer of the Mandalay Bay Hotel in Las Vegas.

Founded in 1988 by the Michaels family, ILG offers an extensive selection of Laser Toner Cartridges, MICR Toner Cartridges, Inkjet Cartridges and Thermal Transfer products for all the most popular printers, faxes and multi-function machines. The company serves as one of the nation's premier beta-test sites for advances in cartridge chip technology, toner formulation, and other aftermarket innovations. Today, ILG's world-class manufacturing facility produces more than 75,000 cartridges per month.
